

The London Times.

We gave, not long since, to our readers, from Count Gurovski's new work, a paragraph or two, relative to the newspaper press of Europe and America, adding a few remarks of our own. The Count, it may be recollected, alleged that the public journals on the continent were to a great extent in the hands of selfish and unprincipled cliques, and were hence engaged, not in guiding and informing, but in misleading the people—to which we added the notorious fact, that in some of the principal European States, the more liberal, just and excellent journals were subjected to an odious and arbitrary censorship, whereby their freedom of utterance and consequent usefulness were nearly stifled by the tyrannical government under which they exist.

In Great Britain, however, though the clique ownership and control of the press doubtless does to some extent prevail, there is no censorship known—the British journals being, in fact, about as free-spoken as those of the United States. Prominent among them all—conspicuous, indeed, in the list of newspapers in Europe and throughout the world—is the London Times whose name we have prefixed to this article. The Times is a daily paper, of great ability, extensive circulation, and potent influence in public affairs. It is the great herald and file leader of the Tory party, and is always the government organ when its partisans are in power. Its tone is of state-ly and dignified as the tread of the lion, whose effigy it bears at mast-head; yet, sometimes, it seems rather to plume itself too much upon its real or supposed superiority to other presses, or parties, and then it approaches the ridiculous—like a noble lord getting slightly beside himself with wine or passion.

The Times, however, is a great paper, and exerts a tremendous force in the political and commercial world. Each number consists of two large double-folio sheets, comprising no less than ninety-six columns, of which more than fifty columns are sometimes fully occupied by advertisements, all paying grievous prices. The regular daily edition of the paper is now said to be fifty-three thousand, or thereabouts—which is a greater circulation than is enjoyed by any other daily journal on earth, with the possible exception of the N. Y. Sun—unless we are to believe the chocking big stories told by Sir "Walter Wagtail" of Beudell's Herald, which we guess we shall have to take a little more time to consider, before swallowing.

The Times is somewhere about seventy years old; and the present manager of the printing department, Mr. Johnson, has been connected with the paper for the last 35 years. During the sessions of Parliament, one hundred and thirty type-setters and twelve proof-readers are employed in the office; and the whole force of printers, editors, reporters, etc., engaged in the production of the journal, is about 300 persons. The quantity of paper used for each number is above 200 reams, which would make a pile fully fifty feet high.

The Times office is an old, irregular structure, of a blackened and unattractive aspect, situated at Printing House square, in London. The editors, compositors, reporters, &c., all have their rooms, (which are neither large nor light,) on the second floor. For the convenience of the workmen, a refreshment room is attached to the establishment. Mr. Morbrey Morris is the presiding genius and manager of the whole concern.

The price of the Times is eight cents a copy, which is four times as much as the New York Tribune, and would be at the rate of about $26 a year.

Of course, the expenses of such a concern must be enormous; and the receipts of the establishment are so great, as to leave for the proprietors an amount of clear profits large enough to seem well-nigh incredible.

ROYALTY, AS VIEWED BY RHODE ISLAND EYES.—Do the ladies of Newport wish to take a look at Her Majesty Queen Victoria?—who has a large family, and spends a good deal of money, but who is we believe, a pretty good sort of a woman.

Mrs. Sarah H. Whitman, of Providence, who is spending some time in England, saw the Queen, Prince Albert, and their two eldest daughters at the opera, and thus introduces Her Majesty to us, in a letter to the Journal.

"On the entrance of Her Majesty, the Queen's balcony became the cynosure of all eyes; thousands of opera glasses being turned audaciously in that direction. Her large lissens, yet not uncouthly features betrayed no traces of royal descent or noble lineage. She looked matronly, sensible, and sleepy. Once or twice I saw her yawn wearily behind her erape fan."

Poor, dear Queen! who can wonder that she should "yawn" and "look sleepy" with so many young sprouts of royalty to prune and look after, at Windsor Castle, Osborne and elsewhere—so many hundreds of Lords and Commons, with their endless trains of women-folks, at the court drawing-rooms—and so many millions of beef-eating Englishmen, raw Paddies, and wild Highlanders, in keeping from tearing each others' eyes out and devouring one another!

LOCAL NEWS.

The prolonged incessant duration of fogs has operated to the extreme discomfort of the shopkeepers in the lower portion of this city, where our merchants most do congregate. The invading and penetrating mist has resulted in dampness, stickiness and mouldiness. Boots and Shoes, Books and Stationery, Kid gloves, and Cutlery, alike suffer from the all prevailing moisture. Still the fog continues. We are naturally of a hopeful disposition and prone to seek our gratification on the bright side of things.—Thus we manage to keep up cheer, though enveloped day and night in saline evaporation. To some glorious day sooner or later, we look forward when mist and mouldiness shall vanish away for an invigorating interval. So long as our pens do not rust into complete uselessness, or our writing paper become rotted with wetness, or our ink pale by constant dilution, we shall endeavor blithely to work and whistle.—Meanwhile we would suggest the probable efficacy of an increased amount of advertising on the part of suffering tradesmen—not in dispelling the atmosphere of its destructive moisture,—but in emptying shop-shelves so rapidly as to afford no chance of the depreciation of the most delicate of goods, through the influence of the most palpable of Ocean fogs.

Our mention yesterday of the unsafe condition of a teel at the head of Broad Street seems to have been almost superfluous. About the time we penned that paragraph the inspector of nuisances was busy in removing our cause of complaint. We are glad to announce, therefore that a proper guard against accidents has been established over a dangerous locality. Casualties from official neglect or incompetency would be rare indeed, were all evils of public concern and annoyance so promptly cared for as the one whose remedy we now declare.

The Editor of the News having loaned a small tent for the use of the guests of the Island House, it was formally dedicated, with appropriate services, a 7 o'clock on Monday evening. It was beautifully decorated with flowers and wreaths of evergreens, the work of the ladies of the House, and a mammoth flag, made expressly for this occasion, was for the first time unfurled to the breeze. A serio-comic ode, written by one of the gentlemen, was delivered, at the close of which a rustic dance came off near the encampment.

We are occasionally delighted now-a-days with the welcome and inspiring spectacle of a watering cart going about upon its beneficent mission. To our ardent and grateful imagination, the showering tail of one of these thrice-blessed vehicles is encircled with a miniature rainbow, which extends its enchantments even to the benignant countenance of the charioteer. No union of "things to be" could stir our soul to greater raptures. We cordially advise such of our readers as wish to experience a sensation of pure refreshment to waylay a watering cart on their way to dinner. The effect is surpassing.

"What Cheer," a tale of the Olden Time, for the amusement and instruction of Young People, is the title of a little book recently edited by Mrs. Anne P. Childs, from the press of Knowles, Anthony & Co. The design of the Author has been well accomplished in the production of this story. Its incidents are compiled from the early history of the State; Roger Williams is its wise and good hero; and the style of composition throughout its pages is attractive and kindly. We commend it to the attention of parents. For sale at Hammetts and Wards.

GENERAL NEWS.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS VINDICATED.—There are many valid reasons why one of the prevailing fashions of the day, in connection with the ladies' wardrobe, should be encouraged (to all reasonable extent) and not treated with ridicule as attempted by some indiscreet writers. A New York paper in alluding to this subject, pleasantly says:

"We are decidedly of opinion that the ladies have a right to do as they please; we think, also, they can manage their own affairs almost as well as we can do it for them, and in the hoop business we are ready to acknowledge that they have shown a great deal of solid sense. Don't give up your hoops, ladies! let the gentlemen rave and scold, till they are tired—you have the right of the matter—don't concede a solitary inch!"

Why, just look at the practical bearing of the matter! If we were a health officer, one of our first actions would be to issue a regulation that all the womankind should wear hoops. During past years our wives and daughters have been dragged down to the very ground by scores of stiff, heavy, unmanageable skirts. We have read the evil effect of this tyrannical custom in their sickly complexions, dull eyes, and languid steps. If a man were compelled to carry around with him one quarter of the senseless weight imposed by fashion on our better halves, what a sweating and fuming there would be. And now look at them? Look at their bright eyes and rosy cheeks; see the elastic step, the light and easy gait with which they swing through the streets! Hear the unanimous verdict of the physicians in favor of hoops! Hear the testimony of the ladies themselves! We are not a fighting man, but how we should like to challenge the wretch who grumbles at being crowded of the pavements by these blessed creatures and their hoops! Why, gentlemen, to say a word to the other sex, if the fashion should become universal and permanent, doctors' bills would be shorter, druggists would pine, our homes would be happier, and our wives and sisters would be lovelier. Ladies, don't give up the hoops!"

THE SKELETON FOUND UPON THE WHITE MOUNTAINS.—Alpine House, July 23.—The skeleton found on Mount Washington, N. H., was discovered about one o'clock p. m., Sunday, the 19th inst., by Ambrose Tower, whose office is 124 Broadway, New York city, it was about half a mile from the Summit House, and 50 rods from the path leading from the Glen House on the east side of the mountain. The remains have not yet been legally identified as those of Benjamin Chandler of Wilmington, Delaware, but no one doubts they are his. The skeleton is nearly perfect, the hands and feet and one limb only being gone. Every bone was found on his person was of the Brandywine Bank, Wilmington, and was nearly as bright and perfect as when taken from the bank. The newspaper taken up within 18 or 20 inches of his body bears date Wilmington, August 4th, the day Mr. C. left home.

The gold, silver, and copper coin, together with the gold watch taken from his person, are nearly in the same condition as when valuable to their owner. It will be recollected that Mr. C. ascended the mountain from the Glen House, August 7, 1856, and was last seen about a mile from the summit, and a half a mile from the place of his death, of the immediate cause and manner of which there is entire unanimity of opinion. Over 70 years of age, he had become much exhausted by the prodigious effort of seven or eight miles of climbing over by far the most difficult and tedious road leading to Mount Washington. Evidently he sat down or lay down for a brief rest, or for the night. The fog and darkness were severe. The chilling winds of the mountain currents at that vast elevation, blowing upon his exhausted body must have immediately induced that peculiar stupor and drowsiness so sweet and delightful to its victim, and at the same time so delusive and fatal. The position of the body was easy, natural and sheltered by a cliff of high shelving rock. The head was elevated, and, to appearance, pillowed by moss, while the limbs were extended in a quiet and tranquil manner. His clothes and heavy blanket overcoat were closely buttoned around him.

Nicholas Longworth of Cincinnati—"Old Nick" as he is familiarly called—has been arrested and held to bail in the Polkopolis, for refusing to let Dr. Hiram Cox, the newly appointed City Inspector of Liquors, examine into the art and mystery of the manufacture of his celebrated Catawba wines. There was a little bit of indignation on the part of the great grape-grower, and a small probability at one time that he would take his revenge by administering a flogging to his persecutor; but it was finally amicably arranged—Old Nick sticking to it that they should know nothing more than they forced out of him, and the Inspector that he meant to know all about it before he had done.—N. Y. Tribune.

SEAMEN'S WAGES.—THE MOVEMENT GAINING GROUND.—In reference to the working of the new plan in New York, the Journal of Commerce of Saturday afternoon says it has some evidence that the effort to discontinue advance wages is having a better degree of success than is generally believed. BY offering from two to four dollars a month extra, crews have been obtained without difficulty, through the regular shipping agencies; but to avoid encountering the hostility of the landlords, any further than is necessary, the ship owners do not choose to herald their success. Those landlords who are known to be friendly to the new system, are violently threatened.

GENERAL HOUSTON ON DIPLOMACY.—It is said that Gen. Houston, when he was President of Texas, gave the following instructions to his diplomatic agents:

"Make the foreign ministers drink two glasses of wine to your own, and thus obtain their secrets from them!"

Upon this the Boston Traveller remarks: "Sageacious old hero; he achieved the independence of the Republic by a battle, and would maintain it by a bottle!"

The markets are full of new potatoes at sixty cents per bushel. Holders of Bermuda potatoes at $4 and $9 a barrel, and holding on for a rise, are likely to be nicely sold themselves, instead of selling their potatoes.—N. Y. Express.

A SENTIMENT.—The truest sentiment ever read at a public dinner was—"Hoops and the Equator—Crimoline and Equinoctial line, God bless 'em! The one encircles the earth, the other the heavens!"

CONDEMNED TO DEATH.—EXCITING SCENE.—The negro woman who murdered her mistress, Mrs. Hall, near Gordonsville, a few weeks since, was sentenced on Monday last, by the Loudoun County Court, to be hung on the 21st of next month. We are mortified to learn that a scene should be enacted in the trial of this cause which should be a reproach upon the Court that sat in judgment, and make every heart tremble with fear at the manner in which the criminal laws are administered by our County Courts. The Court announced that they stood four for hanging and one for transportation. Under the decision the woman was legally acquitted of murder in the first degree, and should have been punished by transportation.

But as soon as it was known that the prisoner was not to be hung, the crowd that filled the court room became greatly excited, and threats were made that if she were not condemned to death the people themselves would lynch her, and one or two gentlemen approached the dissenting Justice, and advised him to change his opinion.—Under these circumstances the fifth magistrate gave way, and the woman was condemned to be hung. As soon as the sentence of death had been agreed upon, one of the Court arose, and stated that as injury to the jail and danger to the prisoner were to be apprehended from the populace, the sheriff ought to prohibit publicly that the Court had ordered the woman to be hung. Proclamation was made, and the excited populace became satisfied with the Court.—Charlottesville (Va.) Advocate.

MINES WITHOUT DIGGING.—A man's time should always be worth more to him than money. Vices are injurious, because they waste time. Any ordinarily safe channel of speculation which involves no loss of valuable hours, may be rationally indulged in, and no man will say another is foolish who risks a little money under such circumstances. Society laughs, however, at those who dig incessantly, and with but slight grounds for it, into the earth in search of the precious metals, which are always earned by very hard labor and exposure. What people need is to discover mines without digging, or losing their valuable time. Such mines have for some time past been found in the Saturday lotteries, drawn every week in the year by Swan & Co., of Atlanta, Georgia. They distribute prizes varying from twenty dollars to fifty thousand, and the price of a whole ticket is only ten dollars.—Halves and quarters for a proportionate sum. Any person remitting to Swan & Co., Atlanta, Georgia, the amount desired as an investment in these mines will receive every attention from them.

DEATH OF CAPT. PATTEN.—Capt. Joshua H. Patten, whose heroic wife seized his ship from an incompetent and mutinous officer, and navigated it safely into port, died at the McLean Asylum in Somerville, Sunday.—He was but little over 30 years of age, and his wife was a mere girl when she performed that memorable exploit.

Democratic papers that justified and apologized for all the Vigilance Committee's proceedings in San Francisco, and who defended the President for refusing the application for the troops of the general government, now uphold Gov. Walker in marching against Lawrence!—Prop. Jour.

Albany was half drowned on Saturday by an extraordinary deluge of rain. The water tore up the paving stones and carried away boxes and barrels, whirling them toward the Hudson like so many straws. The storm lasted three-quarters of an hour, entirely suspending business and travel.—The stores and cellars were flooded, and an immense amount of damage has been done.

ALPINE HAIR BALM.—A Lady who has used it thus writes:—"I will thank you to send me one dozen more as my husband and children use it, and now would not be without it. I shall take pleasure in recommending it to all."

Beware of counterfeit and worthless articles, and get it at respectable drug stores only.

OBSCENE LANGUAGE.—The Trustees of the village of Saratoga have passed an ordinance to fine everybody $10 who shall "use any obscene language so used as to offend decency and tend to the corruption of morals." Such an ordinance ought to be in existence elsewhere.

Coroner Perry told the jury in the case of Muller, that it was not important to ascertain who fired the shot that killed Muller. Perhaps not, but as a matter of curiosity it would be interesting.

A VERY OLD ENGINE.—The Lehigh Register says the first fire engine used in the United States is in the neighboring town of Bethlehem, and still in working order. It was built in London, in 1689, and shipped to Philadelphia, where it was in service many years.

Sixty or 70 horses were burned to death on Saturday night, by the conflagration of the stables of the Brooklyn City Railroad Company, near Green wood Cemetery.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DEWEES'S Golden Periodical Pills for Females. Perfectly harmless, yet wonderfully and powerfully efficacious in correcting, regulating, and removing all obstruction from whatever cause.

All medical men know, as well as many others, that no female can enjoy good health, unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health begins immediately to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, Pain in the Side, Palpitation of the Heart, Loathing of Food, and Disturbed Sleep, do most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils; and may always be used successfully as a preventive.

Price $1 per box. For sale by HAZARD & CASWELL, 12 Washington Square, and 137 Thames-st. They will apply the trade of manufacturers' prices. Ladies, by enclosing $1 to STURGIS & CO. Box 24, Newport Post Office, can have the Pills sent (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country.

ALPINE HAIR BALM.

Restoring Gray Hair to Its Original Color.

WARRANTED to cure Baldness, Scurf, Dandruff, itching and all diseases of the scalp. This Balm gives the scalp a new and healthy action; restores the coloring matter to the roots of the Hair, which passes through the Hair, and gives it a natural color without the use of Hair Dye.

Hundreds of preparations have been introduced, pretending to preserve the Hair and keep it from falling out, composed of Oils, Alcohols and other deleterious materials, and all to no use. Hair Dyes have been introduced that do not give the Hair a natural color, besides being troublesome to use. This Balm is not a Dye. Knowing that a preparation was needed to do what was required for the Hair, the proprietor was induced to experiment until he could obtain an article that would be the exact remedy. It is soothing and emollient, allays all irritation of the scalp, thereby stopping that troublesome itching. It cures Dandruff and Scurf, and restores the Hair to its natural color, and when the Hair has come out gray, it will bring it back to its original color or be Black, Brown or Auburn. It makes the Hair soft and glossy—prevents it from falling out, as will be seen by using this Balm for only a few days—life will be given to the roots of the Hair, and growth will soon appear.

Growth does not take place at the end of the Hair, as will be seen in persons who have their Hair dyed. If you examine gray hair that has been combed for a week, you will find to the roots that the hair has come out gray, hence it is necessary to have the fluid at the roots of the hair healthy, that the whole hair may be a natural color. Each hair has a root in the skin, and is of itself a hollow, gray tube, through which there is a constant circulation of the pigment from the root.—When this pigment or coloring matter dies out, it leaves the hair hollow and it becomes gray. To prevent a Balm that would produce this pigment has become the study of the proprietor. The discovery of the Alpine Hair Balm will do it. It will bring the Hair to its natural color by making anew the coloring matter in the roots of the hair.

It is a mistaken notion that oil or grease will restore the hair, as nothing can be more injurious. The Alpine Hair Balm, will restore the skin and save the hair of those who have been sick with fever or any disease.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of PATENTS (Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837). No. 70 STATE STREET, ALBANY ST., NEW YORK.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries—Convents, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through its inventors have advantages for securing patents, unsurpassed by if not immeasurably superior to any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below are proof of the shortness of time, and the success of the PATENT OFFICE, and as SUCCESS IS THE FIRST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official reports, and latest as a reference. These, his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patent granted in the United States and Europe render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.
During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston did business as a solicitor, and as a Solicitor of procuring Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more capable of procuring their patents, and more capable of putting their applications on a sure basis for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents
From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17th, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Patent Office. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

LOTTERIES.
The well known Maryland Lottery, of which L. HAZARD & Co. are the managers, are characterized by the state of Maryland, and are supervised and certified that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day in the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes in hand. Tickets are sold for $1.00 to $20.00. No tickets, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Tertiary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to 1000,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over. Address: L. HAZARD & Co., No. 39 Fayette st., Box No. 40, Baltimore, Maryland.

THE DRAWN NUMBERS of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz. Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D. C.

LOTTERIES.—The Lotteries of Samuel Swann & Co., are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as though they were present. The managers would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swann & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; every prize being drawn and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount that each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Courier, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SWANN & CO. 100 NASSAU ST. N. Y. Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries. All communications strictly confidential.
